Can 72 hour and 48 hour Roma Pass holders avoid lining up?

72h and 48h Roma Pass holders can directly access to Colosseum, Capitoline Museums and Saint Angel's Castle National Museum security checks and avoid the ticket office by presenting their own cards.

Roma Pass holders can access to Colosseum security checks through the facilitated entrance dedicated to GROUPS. Nonetheless, visitors might have to wait on line due to stricter security controls. As for other museums/archeological sites visitors must go to the ticket office where in general waiting times are extremely reduced.

Are the Vatican Museums part of the network of museums that can be visited with the Roma Pass 72 Hours and/or Roma Pass 48 Hours?

No. The Vatican Museums (including the Sistine Chapel) are not part of the circuit of museums that can be visited with the Roma Pass 72 Hours or the Roma Pass 48 Hours.

If there is an exhibition held at the museum, is it included in the admission?

Yes, an exhibition held at the first two museums and/or archaeological sites of your choice (Roma Pass 72 Hours) or at the first one (Roma Pass 48 Hours) is included in the ticket, except for the exhibitions held at the New Temporary Exhibition Space in the Ara Pacis Museum.

From the third admission onwards within 72 hours of validity (Roma Pass 72 Hours) or from the second admission onwards within the 48 hours of validity (Roma Pass 48 Hours), if an exhibition is held at the museum / site of choice, it is necessary to purchase a reduced price ticket at the ticket window, which will include a supplement for the temporary exhibition.

The cards are not valid for special events held inside the museums. In example, if there is a special event or on event held after the museum's regular opening hours, they cannot be attended using your Roma Pass 72 Hours or Roma Pass 48 Hours.

Does the Roma Pass 72/48 Hours has to be used in the first 72 hours following the date of activation?

Yes. The card is validated at the time of the first visited site/museum and/or the first journey on the city's public transport network and it must be used during the first 72 hours following activation. It expires after 72 hours.

The Roma Pass 72 Hours card is a single card, to be used both for entrances to museums and for the use of the public transport.

The card works on a RFID (Radio Frequency Identification) system. It doesn't have to be inserted and stamped in validating machines located on buses, trams and in metro stations. Simply touch your card on the yellow reader to get through trams, buses and metro trains. A Green light indicates that the card has been read correctly.

With Roma Pass 72 Hours do the free entries necessarily have to be the first two admissions at museums and/or sites?

Yes, the first two entries to museums and/or sites agreed upon with the Roma Pass 72 hours have to be used consecutively. From the third admission (on Roma Pass 72 hours) and from the second admission (on Roma Pass 48 hours), you must purchase a reduced price ticket at museum's ticket office.
